

Talmadge Vick

Minority Business Opportunity Coordinator

Talmadge Vick has more than 25 years experience in sales, marketing, management and business development consulting. Talmadge worked in management in managed care, pharmaceuticals and the healthcare software industries and has been recognized as a top performer. Most recently, Mr. Vick returned to his hometown – Evansville, Indiana as the Program Manager to oversee the development and implementation of the Minority and Women Business Enterprise (M/WBE) program with the Ford Center Evansville; a 290,000 sq. ft. facility with an 11,000 seat capacity. The project was completed in December 2011.

Currently he works in a consulting capacity as a contract compliance officer and is also a consultant for VenuWorks. In his consulting role with VenuWorks Mr. Vick serves as the Corporate Diversity Officer. He is active in the community, serving on numerous boards including the Evansville Fire Merit Commission and the Evansville Port Authority. Vick is the co-chair of the United Negro College Fund-Southern Indiana Region and is a committee member of the Catch the Stars Foundation; a not-for-profit organization founded by WNBA star Tamika Catchings and the Memorial Community Development Corporation. He is a graduate of Tennessee State University in Nashville, Tennessee and holds a bachelor's degree in Business Administration. Vick is also the recipient of the 2011 Community Relations Business Award for Innovation and Commitment to Diversity in Business, awarded by the City of Evansville and the 2012 Champions of Diversity Award, presented by the Indiana Minority Business Magazine.